

Photo by: Jocie

This picture is very funny and I love how the black background made us look like we were just in darkness. The composition is very abstract in this and it's really neat.

Photo by: stephanie

This picture really looks like a professional photographer took it because the quality is high and the background really makes her pop.

Photo by: Kim

I love the color editing you did to make her stand out against the black background. Also, the way you had her pose with her foot in the camera made this picture really unique.

Photo by: Morgan

I really love what you did with this image because you took the washy outdoor lighting and made it darker and more crisp. It also looks neat that she isn't in the direct middle of the picture.